What are the draftees reading? Miss Betty Beck, capable and charming, one of the two trained librarians of the 7th Division at Camp Ord, is looking forward eagerly to the job of dispensing 5,000 books to the boys at the camp. Requests are already coming in, said Miss Beck. One of the books that is going to be very much in demand is "Mein Kampf."

The books of P. G. Wodehouse, James Farrell and Thorne Smith are going to be popular judging by the requests. Boys who came to the camp from college, Miss Beck said, are asking for technical books along their chosen line as they want to keep up in their studies. Boys who follow the current writers are requesting Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and J. P. Marquand's "H. M. Pulham, Esq." Mystery stories and western are in demand here as they are in every other library in the nation.

Miss Beck made one very revealing statement. In a talk she had with the librarian of the Monterey public library where the boys have gone for their books until the opening of the camp library, she learned that in a survey made for the year of March 1940 to March 1941, circulation had increased the most in two classes of books: drama and poetry. The boys want to read the latest plays, the ones that are on Broadway and they find in the reading of poetry a deep satisfaction. You may draw your own conclusions.

The latest "doctor" book we want to call to your attention is "Dr. Asa," by Dr. Asa Collins (Ward Richie Press, $3.00). Dr. Collins' book will be of interest to Californians because he has had a large and successful practice in the state and because he was head surgeon at the French Hospital in San Francisco. But the book will have a wider interest as it has that quality that makes the best "doctor" books such absorbing reading, the quality that deals with the bedrock of human living.

Dr. Asa showed an early interest in diagnosis as he used to carefully count the heart beats of the family cat. His family had other plans for him so they refused to encourage this interest. As a consequence he had to conceal borrowed portions of a skeleton and a dried up dissected arm in an old trunk. To get around his grandfather's disapproval, he studied dentistry at first, a method he recommends to all would-be surgeons as an excellent way to develop skill. "There are still surgeons," Dr. Collins says, "who handle a scalpel about as dexterously as a cow would handle a musket."

Dr. Asa began his practice in the little Sierra mining town of Whiskey Point. Under the ministrations of the town dictator, Mrs. Finigan and the advice to beware of jackass brands, the doctor was turned loose in the community to build up his practice and to learn something of human nature in the rough. He did learn to accept both failure and success humbly and not to take himself too seriously.

As you might expect, practice at Whiskey Point was anything but dull. Once Dr. Asa found himself looking into a large 44 Colt revolver which was in the hand of an insane man; once he took care of a man's wife and cow under strange circumstances. He confined an Indian squaw and he saved a true patriot from being lynched. The humble people taught him a reverence for human life and a sympathy for human suffering.

Romance not a la Bret Harte but a la Asa Collins came to Whiskey Point. Mystery was supplied by a handsome adventuress but it was Marian Hughes who had the star part. What a courtship it was! Disease and birth and death are no respecters of the conventions. Marian was courted in the midst of a typhoid epidemic. When Dr. Asa and Marian left Whiskey Point for their wedding in Sacramento they were accompanied by a most unconventional companion for a respectable bride and groom.

To the colorful early practice at Whiskey Point, the doctor gives the chief place. There is a modest reticence about the operation that gained international repute for him, the operation performed on the human heart. He conveys some of the wonder of it when he says "Accustomed as I was to operating on all parts of the body, I must say truth-

GRADE SCHOOL GRADUATION IS HELD

25 Pupils Are Cited For Perfect Records In Year's Attendance

As a part of the graduation exercises at Placerville Grammar School Thursday evening, in which graduation certificates were awarded to a class of forty-six eighth graders, attendance citations were issued to twenty-five pupils of the school.

The citations were awarded for perfect attendance and principal honors were claimed by Howard Beattie, of the sixth grade, whose perfect attendance record spans five years.

Four-year certificates were claimed by Jack Armstrong, of the seventh grade, and Gale Brumback, of the fifth grade, and a three-year certificate was awarded to Patsy Heuston, of the fourth grade.

Two-year certificates went to Jewel Austin, of the sixth grade, Floyd Blodgett and Irene Frost, of the seventh grade; Bill Brumback, of the eighth grade, and Charles Clark of the third grade.

The following sixteen students received citations for perfect attendance for the past year: Wayne Benton, first grade; Jimmy Hunsaker, eighth grade; Kenneth Jeffrey, seventh grade; Marilyn Lindsay, third grade; Gerald Manley of the third grade of Uppertown school; Carmen Miller, of the fourth grade; Lester Miller, of the sixth grade; Eloise Rizo, of the third grade; Josephine Rizo, of the sixth grade; Carolyn Rust, of the second grade; Carol Romberg, of the seventh grade; Edward Vivier, of the fifth grade; Reavis Wade, of the eighth grade; Verna Walden, of the eighth grade; Rol Weichold, of the fifth grade and John Wilson, of the eighth grade.

The graduation program had Roy G. Strum, president of the chamber of commerce, as the principal speaker. Selections by the school orchestra directed by Miss Laura Ball, and instrumental numbers by graduating members of the orchestra made up the musical part of the program. Certificates of graduation were presented by Mrs. Clara W. Ruple representing the board of trustees of the school district.

Skiers' Frolic Set Back Week

Club's Dinner-Dance Will Be Held June 21, At Strawberry Resort

Placerville Ski Club's annual dinner-dance has been postponed one week and will be held Saturday evening, June 21st, at Strawberry Resort.

Announcement of the postponement of the frolic, originally scheduled for June 14th, was made by the club officers Thursday evening. The club officials pointed out that June 14th weekend is the time set for a series of special events in the community and that the club, as a unit of the community, will want to share in those events.

"Then on the next weekend, June 21st, we'll have our annual party at Strawberry, and we invite the community to share with us in an evening of dinner and dancing," leaders said.

VETERAN OF DAWSON, NOME AND TONOPAH VISITS IN PLACERVILLE

Henry White, of Oakland, who confesses to eighty-four years and doesn't look sixty, was a visitor in Placerville Friday looking up old friends.

Mr. White was employed by Wells, Fargo & Company at San Francisco in the eighties and was in Placerville in 1892.

"Mining is in my blood, I guess," he said. "I was at Nome and Dawson and at Tonopah, too. Every once in a while I have to get out and visit the old camps. I came up to Placerville yesterday from Sonora."

Mr. White and Edwin A. Green were comparing notes, and found that they had numerous mutual acquaintances.

THE COMMUNITY PARADE, being planned by the Order of De Molay for Saturday evening, June 14th, will be led by the Sacramento De Molay Band, pictured here in front of the Memorial Auditorium at Sacramento. The band, which is the official band of the De Molays of the world, will give a concert and variety show Saturday evening, June 14, at the Shakespeare Clubhouse, in another public appearance during the weekend in Placerville of chapters of the Sacramento Valley division of the order.

DE MOLAYS ADVANCE HOUR FOR PARADE SATURDAY, JUNE 14

Procession, Led By Sacramento Band, Attracts Support From Majority Of Organizations In County; March Will Start At 5:30 O'Clock

The hour of the community parade, which will be one of the public features of the meeting in Placerville next weekend of the Sacramento Valley Division of the Order of De Molay, has been advanced from six o'clock to five-thirty o'clock on Saturday evening, June 14th.

This was announced Friday by William Dillinger, chairman of arrangements for the parade, who said that the change is in response to a request by the Sacramento De Molay band, which will lead the parade.

The band is to give a concert and variety show at the Shakespeare Clubhouse opening at seven o'clock that evening, and the hour of the parade was advanced so as to provide time for the band members to have dinner and a short rest before beginning the concert.

De Molay officials reported that the response by various groups throughout the county has been most enthusiastic and that the prospects are that the parade will be a real community event. In addition to an entry by the rodeo committee, El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion will have a separate entry, and the parade committee reports that practically every organization in the county that has been contacted has accepted the invitation to enter a float or a marching unit in the parade.

The parade will form on Union Street opposite the Placerville Fruit Growers Association shed and will march from Union Street through Locust Street to Main Street and westerly through the business district.

"We hope all units will be on hand in ample time to form the parade to start promptly at 5:30 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 14," the committee said.

BOWLING FESTIVAL TONIGHT CLOSES SCHEDULE FOR FORTY-NINER LEAGUE

The Forty-Niner League of the county bowling association will close its schedule tonight with a double-header meeting on the Pearl Bowl Alleys, a total of eighteen games being scheduled.

Thursday night, the Timber League rolled its regular round and will complete its schedule on Thursday night of next week.

In the Thursday night roll, Native Sons took two from Michigan-California Lumber; Murrys won three from the California Door Company and Placerville Lumber won three from Snowline.

Highlights of the night included 161-161-161-483 for Leo Barrett, of Murrys; 191-202-147-540 for Gene Donnell, of Murrys; a 575 series for Emmett Collins, with the Native Sons including a 223; and a 173-172-162-507 for L. West, and 144-142-154-440 for E. West, of Placerville Lumber.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kipp and Mrs. Annie Skinner were callers from the Rescue section on Thursday.

Bob Edwards' Condition Reported Unchanged

Mr. Edwards died shortly after 3 o'clock.

The condition of E. R. "Bob" Edwards, a patient the past week at a hospital in Sacramento, was reported on Friday as showing little change.

One of Mr. Edwards' legs was amputated above the knee on Saturday last as a step in the treatment of gangrene infection resulting from hardening of the arteries.

An unsatisfactory heart condition is understood to have increased the gravity of his general condition.

SILVER LAKE REFUGE BILL GOES TO GOVERNOR FOR SIGNING

SACRAMENTO. (UP)—Senator H. E. Dillinger's Silver Lake game refuge bill as amended received senate concurrence in assembly amendments Thursday night and now goes to the governor for signing.

The bill as amended and approved continues the refuge and provides that none shall carry a gun in the refuge except under special permit.

"HOT CARGO" VETO BEATEN IN ASSEMBLY EARLY FRIDAY MORNING

SACRAMENTO. (UP)—The state assembly early today overrode the veto of Gov. Culbert Olson and passed the "hot cargo" bill. The vote was 54 to 26—the exact required majority.

Barring a remote possibility of reconsideration, the law will be effective 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Organized labor threatened court action to test its constitutionality. There also were reports labor would attempt to block the measure by a referendum.

SHIP ACQUISITION BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON. (UP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing requisition of all immobilized foreign ships in American harbors, and by executive order empowered the maritime commission to take over the vessels.

High School Honors 109 Graduates

The school year for high school pupils closes this afternoon and the annual commencement exercises of the school will be held tonight at eight o'clock at the school auditorium, honoring 109 graduates.

Following the tradition of the school, principal talks will be by outstanding students of the graduating class.

Awards which will be announced during the exercises include the annual Girls League Scholarship, and the annual American Legion awards to the outstanding girl and boy student of the class.

Draft Age May Be Reduced

Senate Committee Would Restrict Training To Men 21 To 26 Years Old

WASHINGTON. (UP)—The senate military affairs committee today is expected to recommend that, in effect, half of the 17,000,000 men who registered for military service be exempted.

The committee appears to be almost unanimously in favor of a change that would limit the men liable for one year of military training to those between 21-26. The present law subjects all men between 21-35 to a year's training.

Senators at yesterday's committee meeting said the arguments of deputy selective service director, L. B. Hershey for liberalization of the age range met acceptance by Republicans and Democrats alike.

PLANE FACTORY STRIKE REDUCES DEFENSE PRODUCTION

INGLEWOOD. (UP)—The negotiating committee of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) meets today to discuss a union controversy that has sprung up over the North American Aviation plant strike. The closing of the plant is costing the United States and Great Britain 10 warplanes a day.

Three of the negotiating committee members who had been in Washington discussing union wage demands with the national defense mediation board and with company officials there, returned by airplane. L. C. Michener, Pacific Coast regional director of the UAW and head of the Washington mission, said he and his colleagues had not authorized the strike which the six other members had called in their absence. The Washington discussions were recessed until the union had ironed out the controversy.

ALL-STAR BASEBALL GAME RECEIPTS WILL GO TO USO FUND

DETROIT. (UP)—Proceeds of the all-star baseball game here July 8 will be given to the United Service organizations for national defense.

In previous years the profits have been used for the relief of needy former members of the National Association of Professional Baseball players.

Mrs. Myrtle Ganow was among callers in the county set from Georgetown on Friday.

Mrs. William Cluff, of Auburn, is here for a visit with her sister, Grace Vennetiz, who is recently home from Sacramento, where she was operated upon.

School Election In Progress Friday

Most of the grade school buildings in the county are polling places for Friday afternoon from one o'clock until five o'clock for the regular school trustee election.

Throughout the county, voters will elect one member of the governing board of the high school, and will vote for one member for their own grade school district.

James A. Irving, incumbent, is the only candidate of record for election to the high school board. Dr. Lester B. Rantz, incumbent, is the only candidate of record for election to the Placerville grammar school board.

GRAND JURY TO MEET JUNE 12

Organization For New Year Will Be Business Of Meeting; 30 On Venire

The county Grand Jury for 1941 will be formed on Thursday, June 12, according to a call issued out of Superior Court during the week.

A venire of thirty names is being summoned and of the number, nineteen will be seated as members of the new Grand Jury.

Officials indicated that the call is in the regular course of county business and that there are no matters pending making the call one of special importance.

The members of the Grand Jury venire are:

A. A. Brock, Charles H. McLaughlin, Steve F. Lovejoy, William A. Miller, Frank M. Holt, John Fink, A. H. Murray, H. E. Cheney, Charles E. Dugan, Elma P. Atchison, W. W. Jennings, J. E. Joerger, Robert Johnson, Vincent Zanini, Columbus Scharoni, Stanley S. Bryant, Albert Simon, George A. Ruoff, Jessica E. Madden, John E. Flint, Fred Westels, C. D. Doe, Severin Walker, Harwood Tobin, Henry D. Parker, John A. Larsen, Louis H. Bannister, Jerome C. Ackley, and William A. Caldwell.

Upon the organization and swearing in of the new Grand Jury, the Grand Jury for 1940 which has continued subject to call since its final report, will be automatically discharged.

SECOND OF THREE BOYS BORN WEDNESDAY IS DEAD

The second of the triplet boys born on Wednesday at Placerville Sanatorium to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stevenson died Thursday night.

The boys weighed two pounds, two pounds and ten ounces, and two pounds and twelve ounces. The heavier babe lived five hours.

The second heaviest passed away Thursday night and the surviving babe is the one which weighed two pounds at birth.

The births took place more than two months short of the usual term.

FARM BUREAU RAPS DISPUTES WHICH INTERRUPT DEFENSE WORK

CHICAGO. (UP)—Spokesmen for 3,000,000 American farmers today demanded a voice in defense councils and "immediate, effective authority and action" to insure uninterrupted defense production.

A resolution adopted last night after a two-day conference of delegates from the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and the National Council of Farmer Cooperation said:

"Agriculture must be accorded equal recognition with industry and labor and be properly represented on all national defense agencies by persons who are familiar with agricultural problems and who have the approval of national farm organizations."

The fire alarm Friday afternoon was occasioned by a grass fire on Sacramento Street. No damage was reported.

The state Division of Forestry fire crew from Mt. Danaher was called to the Diamond Springs vicinity Friday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire. It was reported that residents of the vicinity had done the job before the truck arrived.

F. J. Bryan, of El Dorado, is reported as confined to bed. We shall hope to hear soon that he is up and about again.

GIBRALTAR IS BOMBED BY ITALIANS

Attack May Signal Start Of New Axis Campaign In Mediterranean Area

By UNITED PRESS

An Italian bombing attack on the British fortress of Gibraltar indicated today the Axis may have embarked upon a major offensive to drive the British fleet from the Mediterranean.

The air attack on Gibraltar coincided with a new increase in tension over the middle eastern situation where a move against Syria by the British has been expected almost hourly.

The Italian war communique gave no indication of the severity of the raid on Gibraltar, nor did it indicate from what base Italian planes had come. The nearest Italian territory is Sardinia which would involve a round-trip flight of 1,700 miles for the Fascist bombers.

The Gibraltar attack followed by 24 hours a big Axis air raid on the main British fleet base in the eastern Mediterranean at Alexandria. More than 100 persons were reported killed at Alexandria and Axis reports claimed great fires were set in the harbor area.

Vichy, always a center of rumors, was the chief point of new peace rumors, some of it doubtless springing from wishful French desires for the war to end so France might enjoy some relaxation from the pressure which squeezed her from belligerent camps.

It was plain that France was the center of a rapidly deepening crisis in her relationship with the Axis and Britain and the United States.

Marshal Henri Philippe Petain met with his council of ministers and virtually the full slate of the French Colonial commanders.

Absent was Gen. Henri Dentz, high commissioner in Syria, who was at his post in Beirut issuing proclamations calling on French forces to stand firm in event of a British attack and denying that any German military groups are established in his territory. Rumors that he had been relieved of his command by Vichy proved groundless.

Peace Talk Held Nazi Propaganda

Many Americans Being Duped By Falsehoods, President Declares

WASHINGTON. (UP)—President Roosevelt today said peace rumors circulated in the capital were far-fetched from Nazi falsehoods.

The President said many Americans were being made the dupes of German propaganda.

Mr. Roosevelt declared Britain is far from collapse, and no peace proposals were brought back from London by Ambassador John G. Winant.

Declaring he was not making a denial of peace reports but an accusation that Americans were being duped, the President said of the peace rumors:

"There has been 'absolutely nothing like it—not even a tenth cousin of a peace offer or anything like that or any discussion of peace. Absolutely nothing like it—provided you use this not as a denial by the President but as an accusation by the President.'"

SMOKING, FIREWORKS ON FOREST REGULATED AFTER JUNE 10

Smoking will be prohibited on El Dorado Forest except at camps, places of habitation and special posted areas, and the discharge of fireworks will be prohibited except over the waters of Echo Lake, Lake Tahoe, Wrights, Loon, Twin, Kirkwood and Silver Lakes, effective June 10.

This is according to an order issued Friday at El Dorado Forest headquarters.

In establishing the regulations the forest headquarters noted that fire permits are now required on the forest and that the usual provisions requiring that each car camping on the forest be equipped with a shovel and axe is now also effective.

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK. (UP)—Here it is five months before the start of the football season and an argument already has broken out in the Ivy League. The Ivy League never was an organization to shilly-shally and delay an argument till the last minute.

In case you don't know, the Ivy League is a collection of select eastern schools which have a tendency to over-emphasize education. The brand of football they play isn't so hot, but the arguments they get into are unsurpassed anywhere with the possible exception of congress. Two honeys of recent vintage are the issue of whether Coach Carl Snavely of Cornell signaled plays from the bench in the Ohio State game and that thing at Hanover, N. H., when Cornell was allowed five downs to punch across a touchdown against Dartmouth.

Now comes Yale with a proposal that ought to keep an argument going through Thanksgiving. Yale proposes that football coaches, after spending a week developing the cunning, skill and strength in their athletes, retire from the bench on the day of the big game and let the boys do all the thinking. Yale says it will keep its coach off the bench if opponents will do likewise. The argument hasn't progressed to the point of concrete suggestions on what the coaches would do with their leisure time on Saturday afternoons. Presumably they can attend double feature movies, bake a cake or browse through the decline and fall of the Roman Empire.

We should like to get in on the ground floor of this argument, and we announce without hesitation that we are on Yale's side. Coaches not only should be barred from the bench, but the Ivy League should establish a revolving fund and hire private detectives to shadow them between 12 noon and 6 p. m. each Saturday to see that they are unsullied by any contact with football.

However, we would like to introduce one refinement to the Yale Plan. The coaching should be done from the grandstand by old grads, equipped with semaphore flags to wave signals to the players. This scheme has the virtue of eliminating that notorious character known as the Monday morning quarterback—the old grad who button-holes everybody and tells them how a stupid play at the crucial moment lost the game.

Under this plan the old grads would assemble on Friday night and choose a strategy committee. Semaphore signals for a pass, punt, end run, off tackle and quarterback sneak would be perfected. The strategy committee would consist of eight old grads—four who were graduated before 1900 and four after 1900. The ones who got out before 1900 would have special privileges. At the crucial moment they could put away their flags, go down on the field and join the huddle. Any old grad who was graduated before 1890 would be allowed to try for the point after touchdown once each season.

The strategy committee would debate strategy between plays and in event four voted to kick on fourth down with a yard to go and four voted to run the ball, the issue would be referred to the chairman of the university's board of curators for decision. He also would be in charge of collecting the old grads' alibis after the game and preserving them in some suitable spot on the campus.

Hold 'em, Yale!

CELEBRATING the thirty-seventh year of Mr. Quigley in the grocery business, and also the removal of the business to its new location in the Alderson Building, Dudley James, Mrs. Arleta Quigley James and Proprietor J. H. Quigley, are pictured in front of the new store.—Democrat photo.

QUIGLEY OPENS NEW STORE NOTES 37TH ANNIVERSARY

Sacramento Streets, Firm Now Has New Location In Former Alderson Building More Than 36 Years At Corner Of Main And

J. H. Quigley, oldest grocer in the community in point of years in business, is celebrating his thirty-seventh business anniversary and opening of his new store this weekend.

Quigley's Grocery has moved from the old corner at Main and Sacramento Street across Main Street to the building which was built for the Alderson Plumbing Shop and later housed the Lewis & Lewis plumbing shop until the latter firm moved to its own headquarters.

"We are celebrating this weekend the opening of our new store," Mr. Quigley announced, "and while it is rushing things a little bit, we are combining with it a celebration of our thirty-seventh year in the grocery business in Placerville."

Special merchandising values are being featured for Friday and Saturday and on Saturday, too, there will be a special open house at Quigley's.

"Barry Fletcher, the Red & White field supervisor, will be here during the day to be master of ceremonies," Mr. Quigley announced.

"Mrs. Anna Hook, of the Red & White staff, will demonstrate various products at the store throughout the day Saturday and we will have door prizes and refreshments throughout the day. Naturally, we will invite everyone to share this occasion with us."

The Alderson building has been especially fitted to serve the needs of Quigley's Grocery. A large store room is provided at the rear of the building by a partition mid-way across the building. This forms the rear wall of the merchandising area and the forward wall of the store.

The store room also includes a large walk-in refrigerator where vegetables and other perishables can be kept table fresh.

The forward part of the building has a convenient counter arrangement, with shelves lining the exterior walls and conveniently placed stands from which purchasers may select their merchandise.

Bright, airy roomy and harmoniously decorated, the new store is an inviting and convenient food market.

Mr. Quigley is assisted in the operation of the business by his daughter, Mrs. Arleta Quigley James, bookkeeper and sales assistant, and his son-in-law, Dudley James, salesman and deliveryman.

The Quigley Grocery had its beginning on December 7, 1904, when Mr. Quigley associated with the late L. T. Butts took over the business of Frank Zimmerman, at the corner of Main and Sacramento Streets.

The site had been the home of a grocery business for approximately forty years before that time and the firm of Butts and Quigley continued the business until 1914, when Mr. Butts sold his interest to William Rust.

The firm name then became Quigley and Rust, and continued so until 1914 when Mr. Rust sold his interest in the business to his partner and since that time Mr. Quigley has been the sole manager and proprietor.

"We are very much pleased with our new location and the new service arrangement it affords," Mr. Quigley said. "The transfer from the old location represents our recognition of the increasing patronage we are enjoying and is an attempt on our part to justify the continuing growth of our business by better serving our customers."

ASSOCIATED OIL COMPANY WILL RAISE $1,000,000 AMONG ITS EMPLOYEES IN SUPPORT OF NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAM

Tide Water Associated Oil Company, through its president, William P. Humphrey, has purchased for its employees from coast to coast 10,019 U. S. Defense Postal Savings Stamps of $1.00 each and will present them, with a Postal Savings Stamp Album, to employees as the first step in an effort to raise $1,000,000 among the Company employees for National Defense.

It was the largest wholesale purchase of Postal Savings Stamps to date and is expected to be followed by similar purchases by other large concerns for their employees. The Stamps and Albums will be distributed immediately to The Tide Water Associated Oil Company's employees. The employees will be encouraged to purchase additional stamps to fill the albums to the $75.00 level needed to exchange them for U. S. Defense Bonds, Series E, which in 10 years will have a value of $100.

This company itself has purchased the legal limit of United States Savings Bonds permitted to be purchased in any one year by a corporation. However, it is convinced that it has the additional duty to stimulate others to participate in the patriotic program. Accordingly, this company has procured from the government 10,019 Postal Savings Stamp Albums and is presenting to each of its employees a stamp album with the first $1.00 stamp paid for and affixed thereto. It is hoped that the same sentiment which prompted the company's purchase of these stamps and the distribution of the albums among its employees will encourage them to purchase periodically additional stamps until the album has been filled with $75.00 worth of postal savings stamps.

The completed album may be turned in at any United States Post Office in exchange for a United States Savings Bond, Series E, which in ten years will increase in value to $100, the appreciation in value representing an interest return of 2.9 per cent a year, compounded semi-annually.

This program initiated by the Treasury Department of our government merits the support of all loyal citizens.

RICE, COCO, FARINA CALLED

TRENTON, N. J., (UP)—Trenton's induction station called five men into the service recently. Their names were: Rice, Cook, Farina, Coco, and Cook. "Sounds like a call to breakfast," cracked Maj. A. M. Freeman, station command-

The biggest news on the farm front is that the country's wheat farmers have voted overwhelmingly in favor of marketing quota restrictions on the 1941 crop.

More than 80 per cent of the producers who voted in 37 states favored the proposed restrictions. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard hails the vote as a decisive step by the farmers to meet the challenge of the emergency.

The department of agriculture says the sharp advance in butterfat prices during the past month has made the butter-fat feed price ratio much more favorable to dairy producers. About the middle of May the farm price of butterfat was estimated as equivalent to the price of 33 and 3-tenths pounds of dairy ration, compared with 24 pounds a year earlier. The ratios also continued favorable for hog and poultry producers, with little change between mid-April and mid-May. However the ratio of slaughter cattle to corn prices at Chicago made more than the seasonal declines during the past month. They dropped to a little below the 1928-32 average.

Government owned shelled corn is entering the new crop year in excellent condition. The corn is stored in nearly 50,000 steel bins throughout nine corn belt states.

Reports from department of agriculture inspectors indicate that almost 99 per cent of the corn grades number three or better, the minimum grade on which the loans were made. The department says that all corn not up to the desired standard is being restored to this minimum grade through a cleaning and fumigating process, corresponding to the conditioning of stored grain in elevators and warehouses.

Department officials say this corn along with other supplies will bring the ever normal granary corn reserves to approximately 518,000,000 bushels. And they point out, it is available as feed for expanding the pork and other livestock production under the food for defense program.

The agriculture scientists have worked out a plan to cut down on the increasing damage to rice from insects. Ever since rice growing began in the southern states, insects have taken a heavy toll from rice stored in the warehouse between November and June. Insects from the field get into the rice in the warehouse, and the mill.

According to the plan you can cut down infestation in the field by cleaning out the warehouse, and infestation in the warehouse by disposing of strawstacks in the field.

The scientists say that if rice from any field infestation could be stored in clean warehouses far enough away from other sources of infestation there should be little loss from insects before it reaches the mill.

They recommend the cleaning out of all warehouses and storage places within one mile of rice fields before the new crop heads. They also urge farmers either to burn the strawstacks in which the insects breed or spread the straw and plow it under as fertilizer by the first of June or before the new crop of rice heads.

HOME CRAFT INSTITUTE RECIPES USED BY MISS EDWARDS

Following are additional recipes used by Miss Pauline Edwards in her demonstrations at the recent Homecraft Institute:

Tomato Juice Cocktail

1 quart tomato juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 4 tablespoons powdered lemon juice, 2 tablespoons of grated onion, 2 teaspoons horseradish.

Method: Put powdered lemon juice on top of tomato juice. Allow to sink below the surface. Add other seasonings and stir well. Chill before serving. (¼ cup grated cucumber may be added when cucumbers are in season. The horseradish may be omitted.) Serves 8.

California Chicken Supreme

3 lb. young hen, 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup cream, or evaporated milk, 2 cups fine bread crumbs, salt and pepper, butter, chopped parsley. Method: Break egg yolk into bowl. Add cream. Beat lightly. Add salt and pepper to taste. Dip chicken into egg and cream mixture, then into fine bread crumbs. Place the chicken in roaster. Pour remaining egg and cream mixture over top. Add additional ½ cup of cream or evaporated milk may be poured over the chicken. Dot with blobs of butter. Cover roasters with lid. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg) for about 45 minutes, then remove cover to brown. Arrange chicken on hot platter. Add more cream to the gravy in bottom of pan. Cook a few minutes longer. Pour over chicken and sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve hot. Serves 5.

Rice Casserole Delicious

1½ cups rice, ¼ cup butter, 3 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt. Melt butter, add rice and brown. Put in casserole. Add salt and water and bake in moderate oven—350 deg—for about 1 hour. Serves six.

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., (UP)—Police Justice Robert Fleischer plays no favorites. Court records attest his honesty in enforcing parking regulations. Fleischer's car was tagged for illegal parking. The records indicate Fleischer pleaded guilty to the charges and paid a $1 fine.

LOCHINVAR IN RAGS

by KATHRYN CULVER

Julie Hamilton, small-town Southern girl, regrets her engagement to Kenneth Terry. When she meets Barry Caldwell, impoverished young Westerner, hiking to New York for a radio audition, she falls in love with him. Meanwhile, Kenneth has come under the spell of Isolde Fleming, glamorous visitor from New York. When Barry tells Julie he loves her, she confesses her love for him, and breaks her engagement to Kenneth. A little later, however, to prevent a fight between Barry and Kenneth she desperately tells Barry she has merely been flirting with him. The next morning, she tries to explain, but he is very bitter. He is about to go on his way when Kenneth challenges him to ride a wild, unbroken horse. Barry takes the dare, is thrown, and is taken to a hospital. That afternoon, when Julie, accompanied by her cousin, Normandy Buford, goes to the hospital to make another effort to convince Barry that she lied to him, she finds he has disappeared.

CHAPTER XX

FOR an instant, Julie was incredulous. How could Barry have got out of the hospital without being stopped!

Then, she said quickly "Come, Nombly! Let's get back to your house! He must have gone there. Surely, he can't mean to go straight out onto the road again—straight from a hospital bed!"

But when they reached Normandy's house, Barry was not there. Nor had he been there.

Julie waited anxiously, thinking that he might still turn up. But he didn't. She phoned the hospital, in case he might have been found there, after all. But he hadn't.

"It looks like, as though he actually has gone," said Normandy with a sigh. "The young idiot!" And so it went for a day or two. Julie clung to a thin hope that he was still about town somewhere—that some one would bring her word that he had been seen. But as the days passed, with no word of him, this hope died.

There was no question about it. He had vanished completely—gone out of her life as suddenly as he had come.

Julie was crushed. What was so unbearable was that he had gone away embittered—still believing that she had tricked and betrayed him. Oh, if only she had gone to the hospital one brief hour sooner everything would have been so different! Now she would probably never see him again—never have a chance to convince him of the truth. He would go on feeling bitter toward her as long as he remembered her.

In addition, she was badly worried over the fact that he had gone off without waiting to recover from the effects of his ride on Black Dynamite. It was true that he had not actually been injured in that ride, but the doctor had considered it best for him to stay in bed for several days. Instead, he had recklessly set out again on his arduous journey. She pictured him lying by some lonely roadside, in a state of collapse. She imagined all sorts of dreadful things.

SHE was so unhappy and upset that she went to the extreme of running a personal notice, addressed to Barry in all the leading newspapers of the section—asking him please to let her know where he was and whether he was well. He might just possibly see it.

The notice brought no reply.

Time passed. Julie's nerves became more and more edgy. She began snapping irritably at every one around her. Her father, not having the faintest idea what was at the bottom of the change in her disposition, thought that she was enraged by her break with Kenneth. He suggested a change of climate. He suggested a visit to an aunt in the North, but she flatly refused to consider this. She had no intention of going away while there was still any lingering chance that she might hear from Barry.

From Edith she learned that Kenneth, since her break with him, had been consoling himself with Isolde. Edith was incensed that, after all that had happened, he still didn't see through "that hussy," but Julie was little interested. She was simply thankful that he had made no further attempt to patch things up with her. Living next door to him it was unavoidable that she should see him now and then, but they were stiffly formal whenever they chanced to meet.

Both Edith and Normandy tried to make her forget Barry—tried to tell her that it was just as well he had gone away that things could not have worked out happily anyway—but their arguments merely enraged her. How could they even suggest that she forget him? It showed how little they understood. She would never forget him!

And so she went on waiting and hoping. She couldn't resign herself. Surely in time he would relent and send her some sort of message.

NO MESSAGE came but, one day about a month after his disappearance she did at last get news of him from an unexpected quarter.

She was listlessly looking through an Atlanta paper to which her father subscribed when she suddenly sat up straight and caught her breath. Barry's name had reappeared in a thin hope in a column devoted to night-club and cafe notes.

Her eyes bright she read:

There's a new singer at the Polo Parrot Cafe—a young unknown from the wide open spaces of Arizona who cost by the name of Barry Caldwell.

Julie leaped up. At last! At last she had found him! And he was well—he was all right! Singing in a cafe!

She didn't hesitate for an instant. With her usual impulsiveness, she knew at once what she was going to do. She would drive to Atlanta this very day!

She would go alone—that would be best. And she would tell no one why she was going!

She was trembling with excitement as she dashed upstairs to her room to start throwing things into suitcases. She packed thoroughly. No telling how long she might be away.

Her heart sang. She would be seeing Barry tonight—tonight! He was still close at hand—had not gone on to New York!

She wondered why. Was it because of lack of funds—or could it be that he had lingered in this part of the country to remain near her? Was it because he had been unable to forget her—to put her out of his mind?

The thought thrilled her.

SerVICES, 11 a. m. Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening testimonial meeting 8 p. m.

The reading room at the church building is open Tuesday and Friday from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

"Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of Saints." These words from Revelation comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, June 8, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God the Only Cause and Creator." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, and every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew." (Gen. 2: 4, 5 to 1).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "God, Spirit, alone created all, and called it good. — Spirit creates no other than heavenly or celestial bodies, but the stellar universe is no more celestial than our earth. — Mind made the 'plant of the field before it was in the earth.' — How much more should we seek to apprehend the spiritual ideas of God, than to dwell on the objects of sense! To discern the rhythm of Spirit and to be holy, thought must be purely spiritual" (pp. 339, 509, 510).

BENEFIT CARD PARTY
